

Good morning fellow colleagues and representatives,

SUA will not be convening tomorrow (November 20th). In place, I will be facilitating a discussion about our new project, which is the SUA's Long Range Development Plan. The SUA LRDP will focus on institutional as well as structural changes. LRDP's priority should aim to center around bylaw changes. This discussion will be from 7:30PM-8:30PM in Cervantes & Velasquez.

I encourage y'all to invite new students into the space. All input on the LRDP Project will be crucial to it's success.

Conduct Committee will be co-drafted with the Big 5 organizations. Once drafted, SUA members will receive a presentation and move forward with determining it's implementation procedures.

Also, due to a failure in meeting quorum, SOFA could not convene this past Thursday. In its place I convened the Finance Board, which allowed us to still hear the budget asks of the organizations who presented. The Finance Board has issued its recommendations, which you can find in the "time slots" tab here. Please do not distribute this information to the orgs applying.

Since SOFA still hasn't convened, we had discussed convening SOFA for the organizations that missed their presentation, as well as any other orgs who missed the Thursday meeting deadline.

Finally, the IVP Process will be sent out after receiving feedback in the space within tomorrow's discussion.

Thank you all for your patience and energy to get started. I will send out a flowchart of SUA's current structure soon. A new version of the SUA website is currently under construction, and should be ready to publish in the beginning of winter quarter.

Please let me know if you have any other questions or concerns.

Happy Holidays, SUA!
