I. Notable Work

- A. Replied to a number of correspondences, notably some related to SOFA funding, whether due to misunderstandings, requests for reconsideration or difficulties with fund transfers. Referred a number of individuals to parliamentarian and interim treasurer Jane Loughboro.
- B. Prepared a reportback for tonight's meeting surrounding a few notable correspondences and upcoming meetings, including:
 1. An upcoming administration-student discussion with UCSC's newly hired Diversity Officer.
 2. Continued meetings surrounding UCSC's new Long Range Development Plan.
 3. Meetings by various groups discussing the economic, environmental, and student-quality of life impact of the upcoming "P3" privatized development plan.
- C. Communicated with Parliamentarian Jane Loughboro on a number of pertinent issues. Most notably, discussed the possibility of her missing tonight's Student Union Assembly meeting on account of sudden illness.
- D. Chaired a Student Union Assembly Meeting in Jane's place, at which the following notable items took place:
 1. The aforementioned reportback.
 2. A funding deliberation surrounding the "Dear World" Storytelling program currently sponsored by the Cowell College Programs Office.
 3. The removal of a problematic stipulation from an earlier funding decision regarding the Kinetic Poetics Society.
 4. A presentation by Vice President Judith Gutierrez on a resolution drafted by the UC Students' Association.
 5. The hiring of a new Vice President of Academic Affairs. After interviews, deliberation, voting, and ballot tallying,

Jessica Xu was elected to be the SUA Vice President of Academic Affairs for the remainder of the year.
